Your rising sign is at 1°19' of Leo, about five minutes after the change from Cancer. We have used the time you gave, 2:30 pm. If your true time was more than five minutes earlier, your rising sign would be Cancer and every house would shift by one. If you are unsure, check your birth certificate; we will re-run your reading free if you find a more exact time within 60 days.

Vedic (sidereal) zodiac, Lahiri ayanamsa, whole sign houses. The navamsa (D9) is the chart of inner strength and partnership.

WELCOME

Your chart, in your hands

Daniel, this reading describes the chart you were born with: the sky over London at 2:30 pm on 9 April 1985, measured the Vedic way against the fixed stars. It is a map of your nature, your gifts, the places you grow, and the timing of your life's chapters. Nothing in it is fixed fate. Think of it as knowing the shape of the land before you walk it.

Three things stand out in your chart. First, a striking gathering of the Sun, Venus and Mercury in Pisces, in your 8th house of depth and transformation, forming one of Vedic astrology's most respected combinations. Second, Mars, the best friend of a Leo rising sign, sits strong in its own sign in your 9th house of fortune and faith. Third, your Moon in Scorpio with Saturn gives you emotional depth and endurance, and a heart that is wiser than it often feels.

Your rising sign: Leo, in Magha

Leo rising gives warmth, presence and a natural sense of dignity. People notice when you walk into a room, even when you are quiet. You lead best from the heart, and you need work and relationships in which you can be generous and be seen. Your rising sign falls in Magha, the nakshatra of the ancestors, whose symbol is a royal throne. Magha gives a sense of legacy: you may feel connected to your family line, and you want what you build to last beyond you.

YOUR HEART

Your Moon

Your Moon: Scorpio, in Jyeshtha, with Saturn (Shani)

The Moon is your heart and mind. In Scorpio it feels everything deeply and privately. You are loyal, perceptive and hard to fool, and once you trust someone, you are theirs completely. In Vedic astrology the Moon is said to be weak in Scorpio, which simply means that feelings run strong and can be hard to put down. Saturn beside your Moon adds seriousness and endurance: you may have learned early to manage your feelings alone. Your nakshatra, Jyeshtha, the star of the eldest, is protective and capable. The great lesson of this Moon is that you do not have to carry everything yourself. Your sensitivity is not a weakness; it is the source of your insight.

HOUSE BY HOUSE

Your twelve houses

Your 1st house: Leo

Ruled by Sun, in your 8th house · Planets here: no planets

Your self, body and presence. With your chart ruler, the Sun, in the 8th house, your identity is shaped by depth and change. You are not a surface person. Life tends to transform you in waves, and each time you come back stronger and more yourself. Research, healing, psychology, finance and anything hidden or complex can suit you.

Your 2nd house: Virgo

Ruled by Mercury, in your 8th house · Planets here: no planets

Money, speech, family and values. Mercury rules this house and also sits in the 8th, linking your income to other people's resources, shared money, research or careful analysis. You earn well by solving problems others cannot. Speak with precision and kindness; your words carry weight.

Your 3rd house: Libra

Ruled by Venus, in your 8th house · Planets here: Ketu

Courage, skills, writing, siblings and short journeys. Ketu here gives natural skill without much effort and a certain detachment from everyday chatter. You may prefer depth to small talk. Courage comes to you more easily than you think; Ketu in the 3rd is traditionally a brave placement.

Your 4th house: Scorpio

Ruled by Mars, in your 9th house · Planets here: Moon and Saturn (Shani)

Home, mother, inner peace and property. Your Moon and Saturn here make home and family a place of deep feeling and responsibility. Peace at home matters enormously to you, and you may need to build it consciously. Mars, the lord of this house, sits strong in your 9th, so property and a settled home are strongly supported over time.

Your 5th house: Sagittarius

Ruled by Jupiter, in your 6th house · Planets here: no planets

Creativity, romance, children, study and intelligence. Jupiter rules this house from your 6th, so your creativity is practical: you love to learn things you can use and to help others with what you know. Teaching, mentoring and study bring you joy.

Your 6th house: Capricorn

Ruled by Saturn, in your 4th house · Planets here: Jupiter (Guru)

Daily work, service, routines and wellbeing. Jupiter here is in its weakest sign, but Saturn, the lord of Capricorn, sits in a strong angle of your chart, which traditionally cancels the weakness. In plain words: you become very good at difficult work over time, and you are a natural problem-solver and helper. Look after your routines and your energy.

Your 7th house: Aquarius

Ruled by Saturn, in your 4th house · Planets here: no planets

Partnership and marriage. Saturn rules your 7th house, so relationships tend to deepen with time and commitment. You are drawn to steady, mature, slightly unconventional partners, and the best relationships for you grow slowly and last. Saturn's place in your 4th links partnership closely with building a home.

Your 8th house: Pisces

Ruled by Jupiter, in your 6th house · Planets here: Sun (Surya), Mercury (Budha) and Venus (Shukra)

Depth, transformation, shared resources, intimacy and the hidden. This is the heart of your chart. Venus is exalted here, at its strongest, and its strength cancels Mercury's weakness in the same sign, forming a Neecha Bhanga Raja Yoga, a combination traditionally linked to rising through difficulty to real success. With the Sun here too, you are drawn to life's depths: spirituality, healing, research, psychology, inheritance, insurance or investments. You have a gift for turning crisis into growth, for yourself and others.

Your 9th house: Aries

Ruled by Mars, in its own house · Planets here: Mars (Mangal) and Rahu

Fortune, faith, teachers, higher learning and long journeys. Mars rules your 4th and 9th houses, which makes it your yogakaraka, the most helpful planet in your chart, and here it sits in its own sign. This is a strong placement for luck, courage in your beliefs and support from mentors or a father figure. Rahu beside Mars adds hunger for the unusual: foreign places, new philosophies, unconventional teachers. Your fortune grows when you follow your own path boldly.

Your 10th house: Taurus

Ruled by Venus, in your 8th house · Planets here: no planets

Career, reputation and purpose. Venus rules your career from the 8th house, so meaningful work often involves depth, beauty, finance, healing or helping people through change. Your reputation is built on trust and on what you do behind the scenes as much as in public.

Your 11th house: Gemini

Ruled by Mercury, in your 8th house · Planets here: no planets

Friends, networks, income and wishes. Mercury rules this house too, so gains come through clever thinking, research and the right connections. A small circle of thoughtful friends serves you better than a large one.

Your 12th house: Cancer

Ruled by Moon, in your 4th house · Planets here: no planets

Rest, sleep, retreat, spirituality and lands far away. The Moon rules your 12th house from your 4th, so home is your sanctuary. You need real quiet time at home to restore yourself, and you may find spiritual peace through family, water, or simply a well-kept, calm space.

SPECIAL COMBINATIONS

Your yogas

Neecha Bhanga Raja Yoga (Venus with Mercury in Pisces)

A weak planet made strong by a strong planet beside it. Traditionally this points to success that comes after effort or difficulty, and to a mind that thinks in images and feelings rather than only logic.

Mars as yogakaraka in its own sign

For Leo rising, Mars rules both a happiness house and a fortune house. Placed in its own sign, it is one of your chart's greatest strengths: courage, drive, property and good fortune through your own effort.

Jupiter's weakness cancelled

Jupiter in Capricorn is weak, but Saturn, Capricorn's lord, sits in a strong angle, which traditionally cancels the weakness. Wisdom grows with practice and service.

Moon with Saturn

Emotional maturity, endurance and a serious heart. It can bring periods of heaviness or loneliness, especially when tired. The remedy is connection: share what you feel, rest, and remember that steady effort always pays off for you.

YOUR LIFE CHAPTERS

Your mahadashas

In Vedic astrology your life unfolds in chapters called mahadashas, each ruled by one planet, which colours what the chapter brings and teaches.

Mercury (Budha) birth to July 1994 to about age 9	You were born in the Mercury chapter: a curious, quick, learning childhood.
Ketu July 1994 to July 2001 age 9 to 16	An inward chapter. Ketu years can feel lonely or uncertain, and often awaken intuition early.
Venus (Shukra) July 2001 to July 2021 age 16 to 36	Twenty years ruled by your exalted Venus: love, beauty, comfort, career growth and, with Venus in the 8th, deep transformations along the way.
Sun (Surya) July 2021 to July 2027 age 36 to 42	Your current chapter. See the next pages.
Moon (Chandra) July 2027 to July 2037 age 42 to 52	A ten-year chapter of the heart: home, family, feelings and inner peace come to the centre.
Mars (Mangal) July 2037 to July 2044 age 52 to 59	Your best planet's chapter: energy, property and good fortune through bold action.

YOUR CURRENT CHAPTER

The Sun (Surya) chapter, 2021 to 2027

The Sun (Surya) chapter, July 2021 to July 2027

The Sun is your chart ruler, so this is a chapter about you: your identity, your confidence and your purpose. Because your Sun sits in the 8th house, it is also a chapter of transformation. Many people with this placement find that these years strip away what is not truly theirs, so that they can stand more fully in who they are. It may not always have been comfortable, and it is deeply meaningful.

The lessons

To shine without needing permission. To let go of roles you have outgrown. To trust your depth, and to understand that power used gently is still power. The Sun also governs fathers, authority and health of the spirit; making peace with authority, including your own, is part of this chapter.

The emotional side

With the Sun in the 8th and the Moon beside Saturn, you may have felt private, intense or tested in these years. Give yourself credit. Morning sunlight, steady routines and honest conversations with people you trust are simple, powerful supports.

Venus within the Sun chapter: July 2026 to July 2027

The final sub-period of your Sun chapter is ruled by your exalted Venus, the lord of your career house. This is traditionally a sweeter year: relationships, beauty, creativity and career recognition are favoured, and it is a good time to enjoy the fruits of the work you have done.

Looking ahead: the Moon chapter from July 2027

In July 2027 you move into a ten-year Moon chapter. The Moon rules your 12th house and sits in your 4th with Saturn: home, family, property, rest and emotional life become central. It is a chapter for building a true sanctuary and for healing old feelings. Prepare by making space for rest and for the people who feel like home.

WORK, CAREER AND MONEY

What you are made to do

Your career signature

Your 10th house of career is Taurus, ruled by Venus, and Venus is exalted, at its strongest, in your 8th house of depth, research and other people's resources. The planet that signals your profession in the classical Jaimini method (the Amatyakaraka) is Mars, in its own sign in your 9th house and the most helpful planet in your chart. In your career chart (the Dasamsa, D10), Leo rises, the same as your birth chart, with Saturn on it: you are made to take responsibility and, in time, to lead.

Work that suits you

Fields the chart points to: finance, investment, banking, insurance or tax; research and analysis; psychology, counselling or healing work; property and real estate (Mars rules your 4th house); law, consulting or higher education (Mars in the 9th); and design, beauty or luxury goods (Venus). International work and working with people from other cultures also suit you (Rahu in the 9th). You do your best work where depth, trust and discretion matter.

How you work best

Behind the scenes before in front: you build expertise quietly and then step forward. You are better with real responsibility than with routine tasks. Mars as your career planet favours your own business or a role with real independence, especially later in life.

Money

Mercury rules both your money houses (the 2nd and 11th) and sits in your 8th house, so income often comes through other people's money: commissions, investments, shared business, inheritance or clients' resources. Earnings can come and go in waves. Keep personal and shared money separate, avoid unnecessary debt, and build reserves in good years.

Career timing

Your Venus sub-period, July 2026 to July 2027, is ruled by the lord of your career house: traditionally a time of recognition and reward for past work. The Moon chapter from 2027 may bring work closer to home, property, care or hospitality, or work connected with other countries. Your Mars chapter from 2037 is the strongest period for your own enterprise.

What may hold you back at work

Overthinking and self-doubt (Mercury), carrying too much alone (Moon with Saturn), and clashing with authority (Sun in the 8th, Rahu with Mars). Ask for help sooner than feels natural, and choose bosses and partners you respect.

HONESTLY

What you may not want to hear

Every chart has places where life asks more of us. These are yours, said plainly, because knowing them is how you work with them rather than against them.

△ You can carry too much alone

Your Moon sits in Scorpio, its weakest sign, beside Saturn. You may brood, hold feelings for a long time, and go quiet rather than ask for help. Low moods can arrive when you are tired or isolated. What helps: one or two people you tell the truth to, regular rest, and getting feelings out early, by talking, writing or moving.

△ Life tends to change you through upheaval

With your chart ruler, the Sun, in the 8th house, your biggest growth often comes through endings, crises or sudden change rather than smooth progress. You may also find authority figures, including a father, difficult. What helps: expect change, keep savings and a steady routine for the hard seasons, and remember you have always come back stronger.

△ Your mind can work against you

Mercury is weak and retrograde in your chart. You may overthink, second-guess yourself, or be misunderstood when you speak. And because Mercury rules your money houses from the 8th, money can come and go through other people: loans, shared accounts, taxes or family money can get complicated. What helps: write things down, check before you send, and keep your finances simple and separate where you can.

△ Love may feel like duty at times

Saturn rules your 7th house of partnership and sits with your Moon. Commitment may come later than for others, or a relationship may feel heavy with responsibility. The good news is that Saturn's relationships last. What helps: choose a partner who shares the load, and make room for lightness and play, not only duty.

△ You may clash with teachers, faith or family beliefs

Rahu beside Mars in your 9th house can make you restless with tradition and quick to argue about beliefs. What helps: follow your own path without needing to win every argument.

△ The Moon chapter from 2027 will ask for emotional work

Your next chapter is ruled by your Moon, which is weak in Scorpio and rules your 12th house of loss and retreat. Expect a decade that turns you inward: home, family, feelings and perhaps moves or expenses. It is also a chapter of deep healing if you let it be. What helps: build your support now, look after sleep and money, and treat counselling or spiritual practice as strength, not weakness.

WHO YOU ARE

Gifts, growth and purpose

Your gifts

- Depth: you see what others miss, and people trust you with what matters.
- Endurance: you keep going when others stop, and you rebuild stronger.
- Courage and fortune through your own effort (Mars in its own sign).
- A gift for healing, research, finance or helping people through change.

Your growing points

- Letting others carry some of the weight with you.
- Speaking your feelings before they become heavy.
- Resting without guilt; your best ideas come in quiet.

Your purpose

Your chart points to a purpose of transformation and trust: helping people and situations move through change and come out stronger, and building something solid and lasting, a home, a body of work, a legacy, that carries your warmth beyond you.

YOUR QUESTION

You asked, the stars answer

Sample page. In a real reading this page appears only when you add Ask one question (US$15) at checkout. Here is an example of the kind of answer you receive.

> “Money always seems to slip through my hands. Will my money situation get better, and when?”

Daniel, your chart answers this question more clearly than most. Mercury (Budha) rules both of your money houses, the 2nd house of income and savings and the 11th house of gains, and it sits in your 8th house, weak in Pisces and retrograde. That is the signature of money that moves through other people: shared accounts, loans, family money, clients' money, taxes and commissions. It is also why money can feel like it comes in waves and leaks out again. The good news is that Mercury sits beside your exalted Venus (Shukra), which cancels much of its weakness. The tradition reads this as money that improves after effort and once you learn its rules.

The timing is on your side right now. Since 28 July 2026 you have been in the Venus sub-period of your Sun chapter, which runs until 31 July 2027. Venus rules your 10th house of career, so this is traditionally a year of recognition and reward for work already done. It is the right year to ask for a better rate, a raise or a more senior role, and to finish anything that brings in income. Jupiter (Guru) also moves into Virgo, your 2nd house of income and savings, on 26 November 2027, and stays there until late February 2028, returning from late July to late December 2028. Jupiter in the 2nd house is one of the transits the tradition most links with savings and steadier income.

Now the part you may not want to hear. Saturn (Shani) has been moving through Pisces, the 8th house from your rising sign, since March 2025, sitting right on your Sun, Mercury and Venus. That is a heavy transit for shared money and debt, and it explains a lot of the pressure. And from 31 July 2027 your Moon (Chandra) chapter begins. The Moon rules your 12th house of expenses, so the next ten years can bring spending on home, family, moves or rest. Money will not simply fix itself; it will improve if you set it up to.

What helps: use the Venus year to raise your income, and save a fixed share of every payment before you spend anything. Keep your own money separate from shared money, and say no to new loans or guarantees for others. Put property or home plans on a slow, planned path for the Moon chapter rather than a sudden one. Done this way, the tradition would say your money years are ahead of you, not behind you. This is guidance for reflection, not financial advice; for big decisions, speak to a qualified adviser.

TO CARRY WITH YOU

Your ten affirmations

"I shine as myself, and that is enough."

"My depth is a gift I share with care."

"I let go of what is not mine to carry."

"Every change makes me stronger and more myself."

"I build a home where my heart can rest."

"I trust my courage and follow my own path."

"I speak my feelings, and I am heard."

"My work helps people through change."

"I rest without guilt and wake renewed."

"What I build will last."

With warmth

Daniel, your chart is the chart of someone who goes deep and comes back with treasure. Keep this reading, come back to it when life changes, and remember: the stars describe the weather, and you choose how to walk in it.
